Had Severe Loss.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a large barn belonging to Ed Hogan Friday night about 1:30. Mr. Hogan also lost 1500 pounds of wool sheared the day before and a quantity of grain and hay. A shearing machine belonging to George E. Clow was also burned. The barn carried a small amount of insurance but nothing was carried on the contents and the insurance on the barn would only cover a small part of the cost of replacing it as the barn was an exceptionally well built structure of large size, measuring 80 by 100 feet.

Entertained Classes.

Mrs. M. Mendosa, teacher of Counts school, was hostess to the pupils of her eighth grade at a delightful dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Irene Clover.

He was under the care of Dr. Jordt and Dr. Wolff and his father, Dr. T. J. Clark, of Oakland, was called when his condition became alarming. He was accompanied by Mrs. Clark. For a few days Mr. Clark seemed to improve but Sunday was worse again and Dr. Clark moved him to the Bay to have him near specialists. Mrs. Clark accompanied her husband and his parents on the trip down.

Out Of Hospital.

S. H. Salmela, who was kicked by a horse last week has improved so rapidly as to be able to leave Ukiah General Hospital and return to his home here. He will not lose the sight of his eye but it may be dimmed owing to the scratches across the eyeball. M. L. Farrer motored to Ukiah to bring Mr. Salmela home Tuesday evening.

Walter Gschwend was a business visitor in Ukiah Monday.

Mrs. Hulda Hitchcock, of Sonoma, is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. Salmela.

Word received from the bedside of Mr. Nichols reports him to be slightly iproved and it is thought he has a chance to recover. The community as a whole has been very anxious over his condition and has done everything possible to assist Mrs. Nichols through this trying time.

Lester Day was a Fort Bragg visitor Sunday.

Show Night Changed.

The management of the local movie has decided to change the show night from Sunday to Friday commencing this week with a double-header of two popular pictures. The Sunday night show has ruined attendance at Epworth League at the Methodist church, where from 40 to 60 young people had been gathering Sunday evening. and the change will give them an opportunity to keep up their church work and also attend the weekly show.

Miss Madge Johnson and father, A. R. Johnson, motored to Berkeley last week. Miss Madge had to go down to have dental work done.

R. L. Wilkins and sister. Miss Eva Wilkins, were Cloverdale visitors last week.

Russian Gulch Is Being Beautified

(The Mendocino Beacon)

A new fence and rustic posts have been erected at the entrance to Russian Gulch State Park. A ride up the gulch reveals what has been accomplished since the state took over this project. A good road has been constructed for two miles, ahd the gulch and stream bed are being cleared of underbrush and fallen timber; the latter is being worked up into firewood. Camp sites are being provided, and in some places the stream bed has been diverted to conform to the landscaping. When the gulch has been cleared it will form an ideal camping place for tourists and a perfect location for picnickers to enjoy a day. The growth of ferns and other shrubbery is marvelous at this season of the year.

She is now at home for a well earned three months' vacation. The family have taken a cottage at the Van Damme state park at Little River where they will pass the latter half of the present month. For the rest of the vacation period they will occupy a cottage in the redwoods at the Hunt sawmill in the Orr's Springs country. Early in the autumn Miss Hunt accompanied by a friend, Miss Elberta Unger, a registered nurse from the Merritt Hospital, Oakland, will leave by way of the Panama Canal for New York. After an interesting sojourn in the country's greatest metropolis the professional women will travel by rail to Chicago where, after a visit at the 1934 World's Fair, they will enter Dr. Lee's Hospital of Obstetrics in which important branch of nursing they plan to specialize.

Hymns were sung by a vested children's choir while Mrs. H. C. Spurr presided at the organ. The Bishop spoke at assembly at the Ukiah high school, Monday morning, where his talk interested and impressed the students greatly. The visiting Prelate and the men of the church were entertained at a dinner by R. D. Foote at his home on the River Road, Monday evening, while a tea was given in his honor by the women of the church, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. H. R. Pauli acting as chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Howard Hosley and son of Oakland, are here for a two week's visit with Mrs. Hosley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swim. On their return to Oakland they will be accompanied home by Mrs. Edythe Pittman who will visit in the bay cities for a fortnight.

Mrs. Harry W. Kemp was in town from Blue Lakes Resort Saturday and states business for the season has started off nicely. Travel is much better than last year and a prosperous season for resort keepers appears to be almost certain.

PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

amusing situations and the gay repartee that kept the audience in gales of laughter most of the time. So well was the character sustained by the really gifted Clair Holliday he would have actually stolen the show, if the girls had not staged such a beautiful and spectacular scene in the last act.

Has Real Ability.

Ward Wanger, his pal and male co-star of the play, who finally won the favor of the lively Kit Carstairs, was represented by Winfred Church in a style that demonstrated real dramatic ability.

Won Audience Approval.

Mrs. Antoinette Regan, the social climber with great self-confidence, whose attempts at imitating the manners and mien of the smart set were extremely ludicrous, was cleverly impersonated by Miss Lulelle Hansen who won great praise for her perfect performance.

Hard Part Well Played.

Marleen Regan, the shy, soft-spoken younger daughter of Mrs. Regan, is the direct antitheses of her mother and sister. While she is dominated completely by these dictatorial members of the family, there is an occasional flash that underneath the repression there lurks a brilliant personality that may at any time manifest itself. This subtle and difficult role was skillfully interpreted by Miss Jean Thurston.

A Clever Imitation.

The part of Theeda Regan, her movie-mad sister, affected, artificial, who drawls her words in imitation of the feigned elegance of a movie star which she aspires to be, was well taken by Miss Bethina Arthur.

Upheld His Part.

The role of Edouard La Rue, a young aviator who speaks with a sligth accent and presents a picturesque appearance, was portrayed by Ray Chappell in a manner that added a modern and pleasing note to the play.

Near-Fashion Show.

In the concluding act of the play the feminine members of the cast appeared in lovely evening costumes that excelled a fashion show in the beauty and style of the gowns displayed. Miss BlancheValette made a brilliant and beautiful appearance in gold silk crepe while Miss Gwendolyn Tuomey was richly arrayed in shimmering white satin. Miss Elizabeth Ryder was radiant in a gorgeous gown of leaf green chiffon velvet. Miss Lucille Hansen was gayly arrayed in rose brocade with gold shoes and gleaming jewels in accordance with the ostentation of the new rich but the colorful clothes proved most becoming. Miss Jean Thurston with her fair complexion and golden hair was lovely in a modest but modish evening gown of blue and white printed silk. Miss Bethina Arthur was dressed in heavy black satin giving her the sophisticated appearance that was befitting the character of the movie-mad girl she represented.

Thank Those Who Aided.

Fred Fraser, business manager of the play, appeared before the curtain before the last act and personally and on behalf of the school and the cast, thanked W. H. Messick, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, for the use of the stage furnishings. He expressed full appreciation of music rendered before and between the acts of the play by the 40-piece school band, under the direction of I. E. Saari. Others to whom he expressed gratitude were Mrs. Saari for managing the make-up, Miss Ruth Van Allen for directing the play, Philip Joseph for designing and arranging the stage settings, the student body of the high school for selling the tickets, and the community for its support and encouragement. The members of the cast singly and collectively expressed appreciation of the assistance rendered by Miss Violet Elliott in various ways and for her service as promptress.

Left Fine Impression.

A helpful and hopeful thought of community solidarity pervaded the entire project. A pleasant psychology of the affair was the feeling of the alumni coming back to their fostering mother to be of service after having been away for several years, thus demonstrating their lasting love and loyalty to their alma mater.

A Clean Production.

The play while brim full of wit and fun was entirely free from a single line or allusion that was not entirely proper.

Liked Band's Efforts.

The audience seemed proud of the achievements of the high school band under the competent instruction of I. E. Saari. It was wonderful to see the under graduates and the alumni working together for the good of the school. It has been suggested that the alumni may form a permanent dramatic company and give plays for their own education along this line and the entertainment of the community.

TROOP 43 IS GOING ALONG

Newly Organized Boy Scouts Unit Makes Good Headway

In the Memorial day parade appeared Troop 43, Ukiah Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Ukiah Rotary Club for the year 1934.

Hold Regular Meetings.

There are 34 boys in the Troop. They meet each Monday evening in the high school gymnasium. C. A. Bernhard is Scoutmaster, George David is Assistant Scoutmaster, and Harold Gilbert is second assistant. The men's sponsoring committee is made up largely of ones who do not belong to the Rotary Club. They are Jack Mason, John C. Polhemus of the Telephone Co., Richard Gilbert of the Farmers' Club, and some others.

All Are New.

The troop was started last December with a few boys, all in their twelfth year. Gradually other boys have been added until the Troop now numbers 34 boys. There were no old Scouts to form a framework of experience. All are beginners; thus, have not tried to make a public demonstration or show. The sponsors' time has been spent in doing the real work of Scouting—building up and teaching the boys. The parade was the first public appearance. Sixteen boys were in uniform, others in regular clothes, while five Scouts played in the band.

WILL BUY PHONE CO.

J. P. Thomas, of Garberville, has applied to the Railroad Commission for approval of his purchase of the Willits Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. Thomas now owns the J. P. Thomas Telephone Company operating in several small communities in Humboldt and Mendocino counties.

BENOIT S. HIRSCH DIED

liked to have the finer things around him. Mr. Hirsch was a most gracious entertainer and he was a past-master in making one welcome beneath his roof. The old-fashioned garden about the Hirsch home which, since the writer acquired it, has been kept intact, was set out by Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch and their love of the beautiful was reflected in the flowers they started growing there. Intensely loyal, Mr. Hirsch was, all during the World War, a perfect encyclopedia of war information. His great love for his native provinces, Alsace and Lorraine, which Germany had taken and which France recaptured, caused Mr. Hirsch to follow the struggle with a devotion that almost passed understanding and one of the fondest hopes of his life was to live to see France restored to her old-time glory and power and this, happily, God let him do.

He sailed from New York on the Swedish-American liner Gripsholm for Gothenburg, Sweden. His final destination will be Olso, Norway, where he will visit two brothers and two sisters. His ticket is good for two years but he expects to return inside of a year.

RICHARD E. COLLINS HAS MADE MOST SATISFACTORY OFFICIAL

Richard E. Collins, veteran member of the State Board of Equalization, has announced he would be a candidate to succeed himself at the coming election. His name will appear upon both Republican and Democratic ballots in the August primary.

What He Stands For.

Pledging continuance of the same public service that has caused the voters to keep him in office since 1908, Mr. Collins says his record is his platform. "During the 28 years I have been privileged to serve the people of the Third Equalization District as their representative on the State Board," he declared, "I have adhered steadfastly to the principle faithful tax administration required absolute equality of treatment of everyone, regardless of wealth or influence.

Fairness To All.

"A square deal for all taxpayers has been my constant aim. So long as I am in office, my utmost effort will be to protect the farmer, the home owner and the business man from any tax burden on their property for state purposes."

Long In Public Life.

A native Californian, in his earlier life Mr. Collins engaged in mining, resigning as foreman of one of the largest mines in the state to become Assessor of Shasta county in 1902. His home has been in Redding since then.

A Well-Done Job.

"At the last legislative session," said Mr. Collins, "I assisted in developing a plan to relieve local taxpayers and to return public utility holdings to tax rolls where they will share the expense of city and county government. If the voters of my district give me the same generous support they have in the past my experience during 32 years of tax administration will be used to see that everyone is dealt with fairly as the new tax system goes into effect."

Counties He Runs In.

Mr. Collins, who has been honored by his fellow members with chairmanship of the State Board of Equalization since 1915, represents the Third Equalization District, including Del Norte, Siskiyou, Trinity, Humboldt, Modoc, Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Butte, Plumas, Sierra, Nevada, Placer, Yuba, Sutter, Glenn, Mendocino, Lake, Sonoma, Marin, Napa, Solano, Yolo, Colusa and El Dorado counties.

To Keep Your Hens Laying

Use

Farmers' Club Egg Mash

One of the most encouraging features in our business is the steady increase in Farmers' Club Egg Mash sales, which are now more than double what they were a year ago.

It has been suggested to us we should make our Farmers' Club Egg Mash cheaper, that is, put cheaper and inferior ingredients into it.

This, we have steadfastly refused to do in spite of the pressure brought to bear on us to make cheap egg mash. We have taken the position that our name is not going to appear on feeds made to price only, the use of which will, we know full well, make it harder, not easier, for the poultry man.

In keeping with our policy of maintaining quality, we are glad to announce that we are still including Pratt's Poultry Regulator in every sack of Farmers' Club Egg Mash at no extra cost.
